

REALITY – WHAT DO WE WANT IN THE FUTURE?

Future is going to be very intensive in the field of personal transformation, since every individual is important in changing the world. In our life, we always have two paths to choose between, whether to be disappointed over the temporary situation and spread our dissatisfaction, or to decide to be brave, work on ourselves, value small progress every moment; for the beauty of life lies in expressing feelings and in cooperation with neighbours.

The easiest way is to advise others and save the world. It's the hardest to look in yourself and manage your own life. Let's devote ourselves to changing ourselves, letting go of the past, letting go of fears and dissatisfaction. Let's start cooperating, for we are stronger together. Let's respect each other, learn to accept our responsibility and consequences of our mistakes, and spread our positive attitude among our neighbours.

The world is going to change with one good deed today and with another good deed tomorrow ..., since the joy of living is in sharing things which only then get their true value for ourselves. There aren't going to be any global changes until each and every individual changes in his or her heart. The government can be overturned and replaced. However, the new one will probably stay equal or the same. You can be disappointed in yourself or whomever of your neighbours. You can be disappointed with present situation or the entire world ...

But tomorrow won't be any different until you'll have changed. Until you'll have put yourself on the first place and get your life in order. Therefore, let's roll up our sleeves and go ahead with optimism. Welfare of life awaits us in years. Paradise on Earth will probably reign in 2022, yet only if we start creating it today, and not only individuals, but everyone.
